

2022 International Orientation Days Warm Greetings To The New Abdullah Gül University International Member

In order to welcome new international students, Abdullah Gül University International Office has organized Orientation Programme. From January to until August, we received approximately 3000 applications from 90 countries. 60 students from 21 countries were accepted and registered at AGU.

Within 4 weeks of orientation, International Office provided support to our new students during the processes of registration, Diploma Equivalency, Residence Permit and Health Insurance etc. In addition, face to face meetings were held with the administrative departments of our university -such as the Student Dean's Office, the Health, Culture and Sports Department, AGU Library, IT Department, Career Office and our university was introduced to the students more closely. Fun trips to Kayseri City Center and Mazakaland were organized by our volunteers to enable new students to get to know Kayseri better.

Throughout this whole period, the wonderful volunteer team of International Office accompanied the new students for the registration, Residence Permit Application and Health Insurance Processes and taking them on a campus tour.

At the end of this program, all the students wrote a letter to themselves to read after graduation.

2022 Summer Schools in Germany and Poland

Wroclaw University of Science and Technology invited our students to summer school. Architecture and Mechanical Engineering students attended online and face to face courses on special subjects. Message from our student: "I was awarded this certificate by successfully completing the course "Adaptation of historic interiors to the new function, with elements of photogrammetry and design thinking" at Wroclaw University of Science and Technology. After completing this course, I learned the floors, wall coverings, and lighting of modern and historical places. I got experienced basic photogrammetry skills and design thinking methods. In addition to these learning outcomes, I had the opportunity to meet people from different cultures."

First International Internship at International Office

Marwen Ben Jannena from Tunisia started working in the International Office as our first international intern. He assisted in office work and took part in AGU Promotion Days organized for prospective students.

AGU Promotion Days

During the Preference and Promotion Days, prospective students and their families were given detailed information about university preferences, issues to be considered when making preferences, educational opportunities, academic programmes, scholarships, campus facilities, domestic and international opportunities of the university and accommodation. As Erasmus Office, we informed prospective students and their families about Erasmus opportunities.

National Internship Program at International Office

National Internship Program is an internship program prepared within the framework of equality opportunity and principles of merit for students under the coordination of the Presidency of the Republic of Turkey Human Resources Office, in cooperation with all ministries and their subsidiaries, relevant and related organizations and voluntary employers from the private sector. The Internship Mobilization Programme aims to provide equal opportunity in accessing career openings with transparent and innovative evaluation methods. Also, the Programme provides internship opportunities in public and private sectors, which are accessible for students from all departments. And, the Programme seeks to reduce talent gap in SMEs/start-ups, which form the backbone of our economy. Within the framework of this national internship program, AGU International Office employed two interns in summer term.
